VOL. XIX. NO. 37

BICKNELL
BROS.
CORNER.

1906

The following telegram tells the story of our last week purchase of Manhattan Shirts.
New York, June 26.

Ernest W. McAllister, Care Bicknell Bros., Lawrence, Mass.
Have won the battle, thirty-three dozen. Home Thursday.
E. BICKNELL.

33 DOZEN MAN- HATTAN

SHIRTS---"The Best Known." "Known as the Best."

—Our buyer has just returned from Patterson, New Jersey, where is located The Manhattan Shirt Factory.
—He went direct to the factory. Why?
—Because the Manhattan Shirt Co. is so driven with orders, that we have been writing for goods for four weeks with very unsatisfactory results.
—There is nothing like being "on the spot" yourself. This is the year we have to fight for goods.

son of Worcester are visiting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Barnard.

Rear Admiral Strong, U. S. N., and family are passing the summer with Miss Park, 173 Main street.

During the absence of Superintendent
Palmer school certificates will be issued by Albert W. Lowe at his drug store.

Miss Abbie Hill of Moosup, Conn., has been spending a few days this week with Miss Ruby Jackson on Maple avenue.

Harry Chadwick, Tom Chadwick,
Fred Murphy, Joseph Murphy and Chester Whitten are spending the week in camp at Canobie Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morse and family of Bayonne, N. J., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B.
Morse on Elm street.

Miss Torrey will resume her teaching on Monday, July 9th. Her new class in Illustrated Music Study will meet at 10
a. m. on that date. Other new members will be welcome. Apply at 4 Florence street.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cate and daughter of Concord, N. H., and Miss Alice Robinson of Waltham spent the Fourth at the home of Moses L. Farnham on High street.

Owing to the stringent insurance rules which govern the sale of fireworks it was necessary for O. P. Chase to erect a stand between his store and the bank building where the goods were disposed of.

Mrs. C. E. Reed who has been ill with typhoid fever is again able to be at her room in the Blakeley building, Lawrence, where she will be pleased to receive her customers.

Bartlett H. Hayes of this town is a member of the new brokerage firm of Tucker & Hayes which will succeed the firm of Emery & Tucker, Boston.

Dr. Albion G. Peirce of Winchendon spent the Fourth in town. Dr.
Peirce was a former principal of Punc-hard school.

Leonard W. Sherman wishes to announce that his studio will be closed for two weeks beginning next Monday. Mr.
Sherman will spend the two weeks, together with Mrs. Sherman at Sunapee Lake, N. H.

Superintendent of Schools Corwin F.
Palmer sailed on the steamer Parisian for Glasgow, Scotland, today and will spend the months of July and August in touring Scotland and England. He expects to be home about the first of September.

At the horse races at the Lawrence Riding Park on Fourth of July afternoon given by the Lawrence Driving club, William H. Higgins' horse P. G. won the Three Minute race very prettily.
There were some good horses against the local horse but she won out in heats.

If you are troubled with dandruff and your hair is falling out consult Miss C.

Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton of Concord, N. H., and Mrs. Nutting, son and daughter, of Salem, have been visiting Mrs. W. A. Allen, Chestnut street, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton have reached the advanced ages of eighty-seven and eighty-two years respectively.

Miss Katherine C. Moynihan sailed on the S. S. Arabic, Thursday, for the tour through Europe, which she won in the Boston American contest. The trip will last 45 days, and most of the large cities on the Continent and in England and Scotland will be visited. A large number of local friends were on hand to see the departure in Boston.

Among the recent gifts to Phillips
Academy, announced by Principal Stearns at the Alumni Dinner, is one of special interest because of the object for which it is given. Mrs. R. A. Carter, well known in Andover, donates $1500 as a scholarship in aid of deserving students who are obliged to work their way through school. There is need of further endowment for the same object.
Will not some others of our townspeople follow this example?

hill street, Frye Village. Mrs. Morrison will entertain with Miss Hill.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.
For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure.

A PLAGUE OF TIGERS.

From the London Globe.

The British shikari need not leave his battery idle, even if big game in Africa has become too scarce to be worth the cost of pursuit. He has only to turn his footsteps to the Irrawaddy valley to secure quite an amplitude of that most heroic of all field sports, tiger shooting.

For some reason or other, Mr. Stripes has begun to colonize that locality in quite an extensive scale, even invading villages at night and taking heavy toll of their inhabitants. The natives, much to their credit, offer all the resistance in their power, but, wretchedly armed as they are, the intruder takes little harm from their fusillades. Here, then, is an excellent opportunity for the well-endowed British sportsman.

Burma is more accessible than the African interior, and also a far pleasanter and healthier country to knock about in. And who will deny that tiger shooting affords more exciting sport than potting wild elephants or hippopotami? Those who pursue on foot the great cat carry their lives in their hands every moment; while even from elephant back or from a "machan"—a platform constructed in a big tree—there is always the possibility of a combat at close quarters.

The strongest argument for the intervention of the British Nimrod is the humanitarian: it rests with him and with him alone to save the lives of hundreds of unfortunates.

Stella—Desertion, you say?

Bella—Yes, she saw no more of him than the Senate does of a New York Senator.

THE NORTH ANDOVER TAX RATE STILL IN DOUBT.

"What is the North Andover tax rate for the ensuing year?" is a question the citizens of that town are asking one another and thus far no one seems to have been able to answer it. The selectmen are puzzled and no amount of figuring on cuff or wristband has as yet brought forth a solution.

The board announced on Saturday that the tax rate for 1906-7 had been determined at $16.50 per one thousand dollars just one dollar less than that of last year. The members of the board felt quite elated when they found that it had fallen to their lot to announce such a reduced rate which of course would find great favor with the property owners.

But certain citizens in close touch with the doings of the town officials and who keep a finger on the pulse of town affairs could not quite see why such a drop should be made in the rate. True enough the real estate had increased slightly but there had been a slight depreciation in personal taxable property during the last year and furthermore the amount to be appropriated is larger than that of a year ago.

In former years the selectmen have not been compelled to announce the tax rate until the first of August but by a new regulation which went into force this year it was compulsory for the board to make its returns to the state by the first of July in order that the corporation tax may be determined and the board was somewhat rushed.

The town clerk was called upon for a list of appropriations as voted by the town at the last town meeting. This was made out and the board turned it over to the town auditor to be printed. When returned to the board it printed form and totalled up it was found that the printed slip differed from the original by some eight thousand dollars. The original showed a total appropriation to be made amounting to a little over $90,000. This was changed in the printed form to something over $82,000, without attention to the separate items to see if they were correct.

Upon this latter amount the tax rate for the ensuing year was determined. With the slight increase in taxable property the board was able to announce a reduction in the rate.

After the announcement had been made it was found that the town clerk's draft gave the amount to be appropriated for the school department $23,000, while the printed slip had it $23,300, a difference of $300. In another instance the printed slip contained an appropriation of $1,500 for sewers while the original contained nothing at all relative to this department. Other differences of less importance were discovered.

In view of the fact that the amount to be appropriated this year is slightly in advance of that of last year and with little change in the amount of taxable property the tax rate for the ensuing fiscal year should show a slight increase over that of last year. It was announced this morning that the difference from that announced would be but slight but it remains to be seen just how slight.

TREATMENT OF FELONS.

From the Youth's Companion

A felon or whitlow is an inflammation of the hand or finger, usually of the last joint of the finger. Its importance varies with the seat of it; that is to say, with the portion of the finger involved. It may affect the skin only, the tendons or sinews, or the fibrous covering of the bone—the periosteum.

A superficial whitlow, where the inflammation is confined to the skin, may be extremely painful, but otherwise it is not a very serious matter; but this cannot be said of the other two forms.

In the tendinous whitlow pus forms in the fibrous sheath surrounding the tendon, and unless the inflammation quickly subsides, or the matter is let out by the surgeon's knife, the pus may burrow down through the sheath into the palm of the hand and result in a permanent crippling of the member.

The third variety—called by physicians the subperiosteal—is that in which matter forms beneath the membrane which covers the bone. As this membrane is tough and inelastic the tension due to the increasing volume of matter becomes very great and gives rise to a throbbing, maddening pain. The relief afforded by a deep cut into this inflamed finger, right down to the bone, is magical, although the cut hurts. This is the only treatment for this form of felon, and the incision should be made early, for if it is too long delayed the bone will be killed and a discharging sore will remain, which will later necessitate a surgical operation, even if it does not result in the loss of the last joint of the finger.

The superficial whitlow does not usually call for such radical treatment. A clay poultice often affords great relief. This may be made by making a paste of clay—previously sterilized by baking in a very hot oven—and adding glycerine to prevent too rapid drying; or the clay may be obtained ready prepared in the drug store. This protects the finger from injury, keeps it cool, and if applied early enough may prevent the formation of matter. When once pus has formed, however, no matter what the variety of the felon, the safest plan of treatment is to cut into the inflamed finger and give exit to the confined matter and relieve the tension of the parts.

MARKED BY FATE.

From the Kansas City Independent.

Mr. D. Plazek, the grain man, is firmly of the opinion that the fates have it in for him and are working twenty-five hours out of the twenty-four in an endeavor to humiliate him. "It's no use," he sadly protested to some friends the other day. "I can't lift the hoodoo. Take my golf-playing, for instance. Nine times out of ten I miss the ball when driving off the first tee out at the Elm Ridge Club. Every one of those nine times I look around and find the veranda lined with people, all possessed of large eyes that look like porcelain plaques on a plate rail. The tenth time, however, I hit the ball. I knock it to a speck. Then I turn proudly around, my chest swelling with pride. There's not a single soul on the veranda. 'Everybody has just gone in.'"

Congress Adjourns After the Senate Yields on Contested Points in Rate and Meat Bills—Much Amended Pure Food Bill a Law. Total of Appropriations Near $900,000,000. Toledo Ice Trust Men in Prison—Fusion in Pennsylvania and Vermont—Russia's Crisis at Hand.

LEGISLATIVE

Last Days of the Session.

The first or long session of the Fifty-ninth congress adjourned June 30 after a strenuous week of uncertainty concerning several of the most important measures, among them the rate, pure food, meat inspection, immigration and naturalization bills.

The regulation of railroad rates by the interstate commerce commission subject to review in federal courts is what this congress will be remembered for more than any other one measure. Up to two days before adjournment the conferees were at loggerheads over some of the senate amendments to the house bill, senators on both sides objecting to the removal of pipe lines from the class of common carriers under federal control. Nevertheless the senate receded and pipe lines were made common carriers, but were not prohibited from transporting their own products. Tillman charged Standard Oil influence and ridiculed the big stick. Railroad and railway mail employees were exempted from the anti-pass amendment. Both parties assumed credit for this legislation, although differing as to details.

The deadlock over the meat inspection amendment to the agriculture bill was even more difficult to break. The friends of the packers and range cattlemen who had changed the Beveridge bill so as to put the cost of inspection on the government and to leave undated the canned meat labels finally had their way. The senate again receded and $3,000,000 was appropriated for this purpose.

The conference report on the pure food bill also hung fire almost to the time of adjournment, when it was rushed through with many of its strongest features eliminated. Still, it is regarded as a precedent leading toward closer government supervision of all food products.

The immigration bill was effectually shelved by the house when the majority insisted on striking out the educational tests and the increased head tax, for which the senate would not stand. Nevertheless the senate passed the naturalization bill without important divergence from the house measure.

After the public buildings bill, better known as the "pork barrel," had been put through to the tune of $20,000,000, or thereabouts, the statisticians figured it up that the money bills of this session would total $892,000,000, thus making a new high water mark for the tide of government expenditures.

The senate bill, specifically directing that a lock canal be constructed at Panama was passed by the house without debate.

It was agreed in the senate that the treaty concerning Morocco should come to a final vote not later than Dec. 12 next. The treaty expires by limitation Dec. 30.

The senate confirmed the nomination of Benjamin F. Barnes, now executive clerk to the president, to be postmaster of Washington; also Franklin R. Lane of California to be one of the new interstate commerce commissioners.

POLITICAL

Indiana's Political Millennium.

A plan which has already been agreed to by five counties of Indiana is designed to dispense altogether with the mercenary worker and the venal voter in the coming fall elections. The leaders on both sides have pledged their words as friends and neighbors not to spend a dollar for such purposes. It is agreed that there shall be employed no man who is known to be purchasable, and the custom of keeping hangers on at headquarters shall be abandoned. It is also provided that no money shall be paid out for taking of thirty day and sixty day polls, and where it is necessary to employ labor both sides shall pay the same wages and employ no man to whom the other would object. Inspectors or judges of election are to be selected entirely outside of those who serve the campaign committee, and if possible business men of known integrity are to be chosen. The plan was formulated by leading Democrats and has met with the approval of their political adversaries. Neither the state nor the county committees will pay the expenses of stump speakers except in the case of men called from other states.

Pennsylvania Democrats Fuse. The Democratic state convention at Harrisburg nominated Lewis Emery, Jr., the candidate of the Lincoln party for governor, almost unanimously, contrary to the known wishes of the former Democratic leader, Guffey, whose connection with Standard Oil interests was not to the taste of the Democratic masses. On the same day the chairman of the Lincoln party convention called that body together for July 10 for the purpose of taking down its candidates for lieutenant governor and auditor general and substituting the Democratic nominees, the other Lincoln candidates having been endorsed by the Democrats.

Bailey Strikes Back.

The current installment of the Cosmopolitan's series entitled "The Treason of the Senate," by David Graham Phillips, brought forth a reply from Senator Bailey of Texas, he being the senator attacked. He charged Representative Hearst with being responsible for these articles through his recent purchase of the Cosmopolitan.

Bailey said he had not spent in six campaigns one-fortieth of what Hearst spent in the last mayoralty fight in New York. He pointed out that his connection with the renewal of the Texas franchise for an oil corporation had been thoroughly investigated by the state legislature and the charges disproved. But he frankly admitted that he had accepted fees for legal services and said he despised those public men who thought they had to remain poor in order to be considered honest. He intended to make every dollar he honestly could, and there was not a man in the country with sense enough to keep a churchyard who would not do the same. Phillips quotes a statement of John H. Kirby, the Texas multimillionaire, admitting that he had paid Bailey more than $200,000 in fees, and charges the Texas senator with being the paid agent of the railroads and trusts. Replying to the charge that he had been helping to grab mineral lands, Mr. Bailey called on Senator La Follette to tell of his connection with the recent legislation to reserve mineral lands from private monopoly, and the Wisconsin senator did so, saying that Bailey had given him valuable information and assistance in formulating the legislation.

Senator Bailey.

British Tailor For Our Army. George B. Winter, expert tailor for the British army, has arrived, under agreement with the war department to revise and modify the cutting patterns of the United States army uniforms. For the Jamestown Exposition. President Roosevelt issued an invitation to the governors of all the states to send organizations of militia to the Jamestown (Va.) exposition of 1907. This fair will run from May 13 to Nov. 1 and will differ from inland fairs in that it will include a great naval and military display.

Navy Officer Dismissed.

Captain Robert F. Wynne, who was arrested May 31 on a charge of insubordination and tried by court marshal, was convicted and sentenced to dismissal from the navy. He promptly exercised the given privilege to resign.

Test of Dummie Shell.

A torpedo shell loaded with 150 pounds of dummie was exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds, June 22, in the presence of members of the army board of ordnance and fortifications, with the result that a steel caisson representing a section of the underwater body of a modern battleship was sunk. This test may revolutionize naval construction, as radical changes in the plans of battleships will be necessary to enable them to withstand the force of this new explosive. The torpedo was placed at a depth of fifteen feet and fifteen feet distant from the caisson. It was twelve inches in diameter and six feet in length, so hung that its nose pointed downward at an angle of forty-five degrees, to simulate the path of a shell.

EDUCATIONAL

Taft Succeeds Dewey at Yale.

William H. Taft, secretary of war, was elected a member of the Yale University corporation to succeed Senator Dewey, whose term has expired. In his address to the alumni Dr. Hadley recommended that there be fewer men in the faculty of full rank of professor and that they be paid higher salaries.

President Hadley.

Dr. Hadley came out strongly in favor of the preceptor system now in use at Princeton, the system under which students receive a great deal of instruction in the study of the preceptor with only four or five at a time. Speaking of college morals he said that four or five electric lights and one policeman was doing more for a clean college life than any number of spies and overseers.

Hitchcock Plies Muck Rake.

At the dinner following the two hundred and seventieth commencement exercises of Harvard university Secretary Hitchcock, who made the principal speech, said that while this was historically the home of the physically brave it had come to be a question as to whether it was not too much the land of the free and too little the home of the morally brave. He said that license had taken the place of liberty and that corruption had run riot at the expense of patriotism. He laid the responsibility for existing bad conditions upon the "smooth and machine ridden legislators."

Wesleyan Prize to Negro.

James Augustus Wilson of Alabama, a negro student at Wesleyan, won the prize for the best essay on the subject, "Shall the Negro Have a Part in American Politics?" There were six other contestants, all white men.

Passing the Education Bill.

The British house of commons has adopted the most contested clause of the education bill by a majority of 277. This clause provides that special religious instruction may be given in any voluntary school on the vote of four-fifths of the parents of the children attending. This is the fourth clause of the bill.

A Successful Day.

The young men who so successfully inaugurated a renewal of 4th of July celebrations in Andover a year ago, repeated their good work again this year. The weather was not quite so kind as that of 1905, but, notwithstanding that drawback, the day was a marked success. Several new features were added, and the horse racing proved one of the most enjoyable of the day's events. Another year still other features may perhaps be suggested, and one that comes to mind now may be spoken of this early. Why would it not be an added feature of the morning parade to include a division of trade floats, representing the business of the town? We believe it would be an interesting addition in which many business men would take part. Probably no one omission in the program caused so many people regret as did the omission to ring the bells at sunrise and sunset. The old fashioned spirit of "Independence Day" is so closely tied to the "bells", it is not easy for many of our citizens to reconcile their tied tongues to a proper ushering in and out of the day. Another year, from some tower in town, the bells must be rung. While the hundreds who enjoyed the day owe a great deal of appreciation to all of those who planned and carried out the features of the celebration, special recognition should be given to the untiring interest of the chairman of the meetings, Mr. Andrew McTernan, and to the executive committee, consisting of Messrs. W. C. Crowley, W. B. Cheever, J. A. Morrill, W. G. Donald, and H. A. Bodwell.

Editorial Cinders.

The gift of $1500 to the trustees of Phillips Academy by Mrs. R. A. Carter marks an unusual and impressive interest in the work of this institution. For many years the donor has been identified with Phillips as a real estate owner, whose property has housed many students. While the success of the school has meant income to her, it has not failed to call from her a much greater interest in the boys themselves who seek its advantages. For many years she has assisted poor students to be educated in the academy, and her gift of a scholarship is only the placing on a secure basis her long time aid. As a correspondent says elsewhere, Mrs. Carter's example is a most excellent one for others to follow. By such acts the town and the school grow into the closer relation which can only serve to make both richer.

Business changes come very infrequently in Andover; a condition that marks the conservatism of the town. Thus it is that the retirement of T. J. Farmer from business is deserving of especial mention. For twenty years he has been one of the substantial and successful business men of the town. His business has been conducted in such a way as to not only serve the particular wants of his trade, but it has combined with the other businesses in town to make Andover an attractive community for people to live in. May his rest from active business bring long continued comfort to Mr. Farmer. For his successors the town has only good wishes. The junior member of the firm has experience in the business that means success, while both father and son have had the Andover training that fits them to keep up the long established reputation for which that business has stood that now bears the sign of "Collins & Son".

Watch out for your milk jars! Be you milk man or maid or just a plain milk consumer, it is well for you to know that great care must henceforth be used in the sale of milk. A recent law requires that "every licensed milk dealer who, directly or indirectly, receives milk contained in receptacles which are the property of another person, firm or corporation, shall, before selling said milk, transfer it into other clean vessels bearing his name, or the name under which his business is conducted, and no other; and said milk shall not be sold by him except from or in said vessels."

Don't be thin skinned! The world is awfully full of sharp corners and picked sticks these days, and sharp corners and picked sticks are very disastrous to thin skins. Neither corners nor sticks can be dodged, and the only way is to thicken up the points of resistance. But after all the bump is only skin deep and the heart's the real man. Again remember, that the thinner the skin, the oftener it gets broken; don't be thin skinned!

Fish Market Changes Hands.

One of the most important business transfers which has been recorded in Andover for some time occurred this week when the fish market owned by T. J. Farmer was sold to John A. Collins and his son, Fred Collins. The former has been in the employ of T. A. Holt & Co. for the past 14 years and the latter has worked for Mr. Farmer for about three years. They are both well known men and are extremely popular. Mr. Farmer retires from business life after almost 20 years of success in the local field. He started in the store on Central street which was located where the Imperial house now stands, purchasing the business from J. Frank Morse. The business was increased that it was necessary for Mr. Farmer to seek new quarters and he moved to the market on Barnard street which he has occupied up to the time of the sale. Both Mr. Collins and his son are well known in Andover and they are sure to prove successful in their new business. The firm's name will be John A. Collins & Son.

Car Collided With Automobile.

A car on the Reading line collided with an automobile near Martin's pond between Andover and Reading about two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The auto was considerably damaged and the occupants were thrown out and injured.

The street car was in charge of Motorman George Smith and Conductor David Wallace. As they rounded a bend in the road an automobile was seen standing in the highway, evidently disabled. As the car approached the machine, another auto shot out from behind it onto the track in front of the car, which was but a few yards away.

The motorman was unable to avoid a collision and struck the automobile on the rear wheel. Four men were riding in it and Jeremiah and James Kennedy, who were on the front seat, were thrown out, the former breaking his left leg, while his brother was shaken up. Their two companions in the rear seat jumped. All were taken in the other machine to Dr. Clarke's office, where their injuries were treated and they were afterwards removed to their home in Boston.

Those who witnessed the accident say that the railroad men were in no way to blame.

Wedding.

MERRILL—PARKER.

A wedding of much interest to their many friends was that which took place at the First Parish church, Portland, Me., last Thursday afternoon, when Miss Jessie E. Merrill became the wife of Carl Rusk Parker of this town, son of town treasurer George A. Parker, Rev. R. E. Morson officiating. The auditorium of the church was prettily decorated with banks of evergreen, potted plants, ferns and peonies making a most attractive setting for the bridal party who entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Ellen Wilson. The bride was handsomely gowned in an ivory white satin gown with white lace veil and she carried a large bunch of white sweet peas. She was given in marriage by her father, Dr. H. A. Merrill, and was attended by Miss Christine Crickett of Cumberland acting as maid of honor and eight bridesmaids, Miss Louise Gerrish and Miss Alice Gerrish of Boston; Miss Marjory Chandler of Portland; Miss Nellie Dunn of Cumberland; Miss Helen Small, Miss Mollie Andrews, Miss Georgia White and Miss Nellie Chase of Yarmouth. The maid of honor, Miss Crickett, looked most charming in a gown of light green silk, her bouquet being pink sweet peas. The bridesmaids' gowns were all of white. Allan McCurdy of Andover acted as best man, the ushers being Erlon Richardson of Portland; Raymond Aldrich of Woburn; Philip Jenkins of Andover; Harry Perkins of Brookline; Porter Dow of Dorchester; Clarence Westcott of Portland; William Rowe of Yarmouth; James Gannett of Yarmouth. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride to the bridal party and relatives. Ice cream and cake were served by Miss Leila Humphrey and Mrs. Beecher Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Parker left immediately following the reception for an extended wedding trip. On their return they are to reside at 901 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. They will be at home to friends after September 1. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents, all of which show the great love and esteem of the many friends of both.

Collided With a Horse.

Walter J. Morrissey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrissey, of Stevens street, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday morning during the heavy rain. He was riding a bicycle down Main street on the right hand side, and a carriage driven by J. Warren Berry of T. A. Holt's store was coming up on the right hand side. Another carriage came down Park street. Mr. Berry turned sharply up Park street. Morrissey avoided the former, but collided with Mr. Berry's team at Wakefield's corner. Morrissey saw the horse directly in front of him but he was unable to turn out, so he put down his head and went straight ahead. He struck the horse in the fore and with such force that the horse was thrown over on its side. Morrissey sprained his neck a little, and received six or seven bad bruises on his left leg from the horse's kicking. His eye glasses which he was wearing were completely demolished, and the front wheel of the bicycle was smashed beyond repair. Witnesses of the accident consider him lucky to escape with as little injury as he did.

Remnants of gray suitings and blue and black men's wear, serge, for boys' pants and suits, now on sale at Farr's Store, 38 Appleton street, Lawrence.

IMPORTANT NOTICE — OUR ANNUAL

Lockhart Mill End Sale

WILL OPEN SATURDAY, JULY 7, 9 A. M.

It is always the greatest dry goods sale of the year with many interesting possibilities and sureties in all classes of department store merchandise that can be bought from the mills at end of the season sacrifice prices. The Mill End Sale is the direct and logical result of manufacturer's problems, produces dilemmas and errors of judgment. Great mills are liable to great mistakes in overstocks, styles that were slow sellers and run of the mill lots not up to the standard. These lots are sacrificed for spot cash to the great Mill End syndicate whom we represent in this city and who send their manager, Mr. Charles A. Lockhart, to personally open this sale in our store, Saturday, July 7, at 9 a. m. Mr. Lockhart will be with us all day and a pleasing feature of this great money-saving event is the style and manner original to Mr. Lockhart of introducing the many special good bargains of the Mill End Sale. It will be a great sacrifice sale, for these goods must be sold quickly. Watch our display windows, and Saturday look for the Mill End Sale Yellow Price Tickets—And watch Mr. Lockhart and listen to him. Fuller details of this sale will be found in the Lawrence Telegram, Tribune and American of Friday. Be on hand Saturday at 9 a. m. for the Mill End Sale at

Obituary

GEORGE F. SWIFT.

A prominent citizen, who had since his birth been closely allied with the growth and development of Andover, was lost to the town on Tuesday morning in the death of George F. Swift. Although long a sufferer from a weak heart, his death came unexpectedly. Mr. Swift had been an almost life-long resident of Andover, living in the house where he was born and where he died, the delightful homestead at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. His father was Mr. Nathaniel Swift, one of the foremost of New England's business men a couple of generations ago, and from the sire the son inherited a keen business mind and marked ability. In 1802 he went to New York City and started upon his business career. From New York his steps led to the South and West and to Pennsylvania, and a large and varied experience was his before his return to Andover for a permanent home. Since his return to Andover he had devoted his time to the care of the Swift estate and his own business interests, the latter taking him to Boston almost daily.

The death of Mr. Swift removes from the life of Andover a man of many fine qualities. He was a rare conversationalist, drawing from an immense fund of information, and coloring with a wonderful gift of language. Few men possessed a greater love for the beautiful than he, and few had a more discriminating appreciation of what made the beautiful than he. He loved Andover and knew its every source of strength and weakness, and his rare judgment upon all things that called for superior taste sometimes made him seem intolerant, but those who knew him well liked to drink deep of the ideas and plans which constantly filled his mind. The drives of Andover were his delight for many years, and to enjoy them there was always that other joy that goes with the fullest appreciation of nature—a good horse. He had many beautiful horses, and they gave to him never ending pleasure, and with them he passed on to innumerable Andover visitors even greater pleasure in the long drives with which he always entertained his friends.

No man in Andover had a larger interest in "village improvement" than he, and by example and counsel he helped in making the town a more attractive and inviting home town. His influence was always on the side of good government in town and state, and many who knew him intimately will miss the cheer and aid that came from discussion with him of the important questions of the day. Mr. Swift leaves three sisters, as members of the immediate family, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Charlotte, who resided with him at the old home, and Mrs. J. F. Richards. Funeral services were conducted at the late home, at eleven o'clock this morning, Rev. Frederic Palmer officiating. Interment was in the South Church cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH TAYLOR.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor died suddenly of heart failure on Tuesday at the age of 38 years. Death came when Mrs. Taylor was at work about the house doing her usual duties. Without the least warning she fell to the floor and before a physician had arrived she passed away.

The funeral was held this afternoon at two o'clock from Christ church, the service being conducted by Rev. Frederic Palmer. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by a husband who has been an invalid for several years and conducts a small variety store on North Main street.

In Memoriam.

In George F. Swift there passed from among us a singularly gallant and generous spirit. As a boy, abounding energy dominated his life. As a young man, he adventured and explored. Always he drew friends to himself like a magnet. In his genial manners he recalled the South. Yet the North spoke in his sense of justice and humanity. The drama was a passion—almost a cult with him. Not the less he hated shams. Real christianity commanded his respect. A keen insight and a broad charity colored his opinions, his speech, his business, his reading, his fondness for horses and for flowers, his conscience of gold, his will of iron. He had the courage of a soldier and the mind of a philosopher. With a passion for art and architecture worthy of a critic, he blended a reverence for intellect and imagination worthy of an educator. Few equalled him as a conversationalist. He loved his country not because of, but in spite of, her magnificent faults. Gratitude was his being. "The praying man is of the earth." His intimates will always rejoice that this earnest of the life everlasting was his. J. P. T.

A GRAND CELEBRATION

Declaration of Independence Fittingly Observed with Horribles, Sports, Band Concerts and Fireworks.

Andover's celebration of the Fourth of July passed off very successfully the entire program being carried out without a hitch and one of the most enjoyable and successful celebrations that the town has ever had is now a matter of history.

Although the rain of the early morning and the showers which came during the forenoon marred the celebration slightly, all the events which were scheduled to take place were held without interruption and at no time was the rain heavy enough to cause a postponement.

The attendance at all the sports was large and much interest was taken in all the events by the contestants. There was no lack of entries for most of the races and as there was much rivalry for the honors, the races were close. The baseball game for the amateur championship of Andover drew a good crowd as did the game in the afternoon. One of the most pleasing features of the day was the horse racing at Thorndale track which drew about four hundred people, a very gratifying showing for the owners of the horses. In the evening the fireworks and band concert drew another large crowd, nearly 3000 people being present to see the fine display and hear the band.

The bonfire started at midnight with the huge bonfire on the playstead, the torch being applied by Frank Goodwin and B. Tuttle, both of whom were members of the committee and who had worked hard in its erection. The pile was about thirty-five feet high and was composed of oil barrels, packing boxes, mattresses and almost anything inflammable. About 45 gallons of kerosene oil was also used. The other members of the committee who worked hard to make the fire a success and to whom a great deal of credit is due are, David Whitman, Ralph Manning and Scot Shattuck.

The second feature of the celebration was the horribles parade. This was as usual one of the most important and interesting numbers on the day's program and the great interest taken in it shows that to have a celebration without a parade of this kind would not be feasible. The parade formed on Park street and the marshal, John A. Morrill, was on hand early to arrange the various entries. There was a heavy downpour of rain just before the time for starting and it looked doubtful as to whether the parade would be a success. As the time wore on however the rain ceased and at the time for starting it had stopped.

At a few minutes after the scheduled hour the procession started, the marshal being assisted by William C. Crowley and the following aids: Robert A. Watson, Gayton Abbott, George L. Averill, Granville K. Cutler and George Phelps. The marshal and aids wore white suits and yachting caps. The route was somewhat changed from the one which was planned by the committee, it being decided that a shorter route would be preferable owing to the rain. The route was as follows: Park to Main to High to Harding to Main to Essex to Abbott Village centre. The procession then counter marched up Essex to Brook to Central to School to Morton to Main where a counter march was again made before the judges. The parade then rested on Main street and the judges called each of the winners before them to receive the prizes. These were awarded as follows:

Horribles: First, Wm. Moynihan, Michael Crowley and David Murphy; second, Wm. Donald, Charles Hill, Ira Hill, Frank L. Cole, Thomas Connors; third, Alex Crockett, Robert Crockett, Albert Gilman, Andrew Connors. Antiques: First, stage coach of Abbott tavern, Daniel G. Abbott, Fred Collins, Stewart Clement, Fred Towle and Charles Warden; second, old fashioned chaise, Arthur Comeau, David Coutts, P. J. Hannon; third, Andover water works in 1780, Walter Holt, Percy Holt and John V. Holt.

Local hits: First, town farm, Fred Curran, John Driscoll, John Killackey, Richard Hodnett, James Saunders; second, clambake at engine house, Ivan Murch, Leonard Saunders, Arthur Jackson; third, snow roller, Fred Higgins, John L. Morrison.

The judges were Hon. John N. Cole, William A. Allen, Walter I. Morse, William J. Burns, Henry W. Barnard and David O'Connell.

Sports.

The sports took place on the playstead at nine o'clock, and there was a large attendance ready to witness the races and other events. The first was the 100-yard dash. This was easily won by Walter Thompson, with Edward Towne second and J. Lynch third. Thompson got away in good style and ran a pretty race, winning handily with about ten feet to the good. Lynch led Towne for most of the distance, but just before the tape was reached Towne passed him and won out by several inches.

The next event was the potato race. There were seven entries, but two of these dropped out before the race was finished. W. Black won first money, with J. Brookins second.

The pig race was then started, and this was probably the most enjoyable event on the list. When the pig was let out of the box it was given about two minutes' start and the chase began. Running through the crowd it ran around the John Dove school and then took its course toward Morton street. A stone wall impeded its escape, however, and, as it crawled through, J. Brookins jumped over and caught it. He returned it to the box and won his prize.

Many were interested in the quoiting match which was then started, and was won by Alexander Lamont.

The horse racing at the Thorndale race track was one of the most enjoyable features of the celebration. Fully 400 persons were on hand to see the races, which were handled by Frank J. Trout of Boston, one of the best known horsemen in this part of the country. There were two classes, pacing and trotting. In the former class three horses started, the best three out of five heats to win the race. The race was over a half mile course, and the horses finished as follows: Miss Thayer, owned by J. H. Richardson and driven by I. Knight, first; Queen Vassar, owned by W. H.

Higgins and driven by William McManon, second in the first and second heats and third in the last heat; Mack Wilkes, owned and driven by Herbert H. White, third in the first and second heats and second in the third heat. Time, 1:14 1-4. In the trotting class Mr. Higgins' horse, Loring H., won from Mr. Richardson's horse, Colanthe, two straight heats in 1:14 1-4. The judges were W. H. Higgins and Dr. J. A. Bacon.

At three o'clock in the afternoon a band concert was given on the playstead, together with a baseball game, the two combined drawing an audience of about 800. The band certainly did themselves proud, playing many popular airs as well as classical pieces.

Time—Two hours.

Afternoon Game.

At three o'clock the baseball game between the Andover Athletic association and the Burnham Athletic association of Boston was played which resulted in a victory for the local team.

The game was close and exciting all through, Andover winning out through some clever batting in the fifth inning when four runs were netted. Donovan got on first by an error of Callahan and Hickey and Moynihan followed with singles. With the bases full Soutar made first on fielder's choice and Donovan scored the same play by Saunders netted another run and the bases were again filled. Maloney retired at first and Moynihan got out at the plate on a tries. Soutar and Saunders then scored on Lawson's hit to center. Moynihan and Donnelly both pitched good games and were well supported. Moynihan's one hand catch and double play was one of the features of the game.

"It must have been frightful," said Mrs. Bossin to her husband, who was in the earthquake. "Tell me what was your first thought when you awakened in your room at the hotel and heard the alarm."
"My first thought was of you," answered Mr. Bossin.
"Yes, first thing I knew a vase off the mantel caught me on the ear, then a chair, whirled in my direction, and when I jumped to the middle of the room four or five books and a framed picture struck me all at once."
Even after saying that he affected to wonder what made her so angry for the remainder of the evening—Judge.

COMMERCIAL

Policy Holders' Committee Named.

The personnel of the international policy holders' committee which has been formed to see that justice is done to the policy holders of the Mutual and Governor Hahly.

New York Life Insurance companies in the coming election for new directors was named as follows:
Governors: Broward of Florida, Blanchard of Louisiana, Hanly of Indiana, Johnson of Minnesota, Penny-packer of Pennsylvania, Roberts of Connecticut; Rev. Russell H. Conwell, E. C. Clark of Iowa, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors; Cardinal Gibbons, Judge George Gray of Delaware, John Hemphill of South Carolina, H. N. Higginbotham of Illinois, Z. A. Lash, K. C. of Canada; Nicholas Longworth, F. B. Neldinghaus of St. Louis, Samuel Newhouse, miner, of Utah; Fremont Older of California, Richard Olney of Massachusetts, Alton B. Parker of New York, A. M. Shook of Tennessee, Charles Emory Smith of Pennsylvania, Benjamin F. Tracy of New York, Bishop McCabe of the Methodist Episcopal church, Thomas B. Wana-maker of Philadelphia, Heinrich Wiemand of Germany, Samuel Untermyer, general counsel, of New York; Seymour Eaton, Secretary Scruggam, organization manager. English and French committees are in course of selection and will be announced later.

A recently enacted New York law says that each policy holder will have one vote, regardless of amount or number of his policies. Voting will be directly by mail, the polls opening Oct. 18 and remaining open sixty days. Policy holders all over the country and Canada are formed into associations and a warning has been sent out to them to beware of the influence of the associated agents of the companies, who will try to persuade holders to vote for the present managers. The international committee will come together to organize July 10.

Great Advance in American Trade.

A bulletin of the department of commerce and labor just issued says that in the fiscal year 1905 our exports to Europe amounted to $1,021,000,000, an increase of $400,000,000 in ten years. It represents 67 per cent of the entire output. Trade of the United States has advanced noticeably in all sections of the world except in the tropics.

American Store For London.

N. G. Selfridge of Chicago announces the formation of a dry goods corporation to do business in London and to be known as the Selfridge & Waring company. It will have a capital stock of $5,000,000, has obtained a site on Oxford street and will open for business in September, 1907. The new store will be modeled after the Marshall Field store in Chicago and will be half the size of that establishment.

P. R. R. to Purge Itself.

At a meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania railroad an order was issued directing all employees of the road who own coal stocks to dispose of their holdings at once on penalty of losing their positions. It is said that stocks in iron and steel companies will be included.

New Cable to Japan Open.

The emperor of Japan and President Roosevelt exchanged the first messages June 25 over the new commercial Pacific cable, which had just been completed between Guam and Japan, thus connecting the United States with Japan.

SOCIOLOGICAL

Human Breeding as a Science.

Assistant Secretary Hays of the department of agriculture, who is the organizer of the American Breeders' association, has started an experiment under the auspices of the association to create a finer type of human beings through marriages between properly selected persons in line with the suggestion recently put forward by Luther Burbank. The association has appointed a committee on eugenics for this purpose. The basis of the experiment will rest upon the uniting in marriage of American men and women who are perfectly adapted to each other in interests, ideals and environment.

Sinclair's Home Colony Planned.

Upton Sinclair, who has recently achieved worldwide fame through the literary sensation produced by his story of Packingtown conditions and who wrote that book with the avowed intention of aiding the propaganda of socialism, has written an article in the Independent in which he proposes to form a farm home colony near New York city for the purpose of solving the servant problem, reducing household drudgery and providing ideal conditions for the growth and education of children. Mr. Sinclair distinctly disavows any intention of attempting to realize in arbitrary fashion the conditions contemplated under the socialistic era. Nor does he propose to reform the world by any organized extension of his group of homes. He tells with great frankness of the difficulties he and his wife have encountered in providing a suitable country home for themselves and their child and explains how distasteful to them is the idea of hired domestic servants. If a sufficient number of people respond to justify the experiment—anywhere from twenty to a hundred families—he will himself have estimates prepared by experts and a legal form of organization drawn up, so that a suitable tract of land may be purchased, for sale or rent to individual members, with the idea of employing all of the latest mechanical devices for the aseptic preparation of food in a common kitchen, the washing of dishes, the laundering of clothing, with economies in the purchasing of supplies and provisions through a general store at wholesale prices to the individual and various other economies. At the same time the families thus associated on this liberal plane of thought would be expected to adopt the latest ideas for the care and training of their children, while each family unit would continue to retain its individuality and rights in a home of its own.

LABOR

Kansas Labor Famine.

Governor Hoch's appeal to the railroads for low rates and to Chicago for men to help save the wheat crops of Kansas has met with the reply that it is no use to reduce rates of transportation, as there is no surplus of labor to send to Kansas. Heretofore farmers have recruited their harvest hands from the ranks of men idle on account of strikes, but the recent adjustment of all the principal labor troubles in Chicago leaves the army of the unemployed a minus quantity. For some time past the railroads have been gobbling up all the men offered by the agencies and transporting them to the wheat belt free of charge. It pays them $1.75 a day and, it is said, boards them well.

Rioting in Allentown Strike.

The strike of street car men at Allentown, Pa., took on a serious aspect June 26 when a platoon of state constabulary fired into a crowd and injured a boy. A mob gathered and threw stones at the police. The two men who were accused of firing were locked up and charges preferred against them.

Another Labor Injunction.

Vice Chancellor Stevenson, at Jersey City, has issued an injunction restraining labor unions from interfering with the customers of Booth & Bros., lumber dealers and planing mill men of Bayonne, N. J. The Carpenters and Joiners' union had tried to induce boys builders not to use the products of this mill on the ground that it was "unfair."

Millionaires Replace Strikers.

As a result of the refusal of the Du Pont Powder company to grant an eight hour day to its employees the works at Wilmington, Del., are badly crippled by a strike, and members of the millionaire Du Pont family are engaged in the dangerous task of driving powder laden wagons from the mills to the magazines and storehouses. As this company owns nearly all the powder works in the country, it is expected that the strike will soon spread to other places. Eighty men have already gone out at Carneys Point, N. J.

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

Jail For Ice Trust Men.

For violation of the Ohio antitrust law five ice dealers of Toledo last week received the maximum penalty under the statutes—namely, $5,000 fine and one year in the workhouse. The sentence, which was imposed by Judge Kinkade, was to begin immediately, but the judge promised that if the money extorted from the people was returned to them and if the members of the combine discontinued their illegal operations he would listen to a plea that part of the imprisonment be remitted. This degree of clemency was due to the fact that the convicted men had admitted their guilt after the first case, that of Joseph A. Miller, manager of the Toledo Ice and Coal company, had resulted in a conviction. The convicted men were at once taken to jail and later transferred to the workhouse. There was no chance for appeal to a higher court. The cases were conducted by Prosecutor Wacheimer, who was elected last fall on an independent ticket. Proceedings were undertaken at once to oust the offending companies from their charters and to bring other local combines to book.

When Attorney Brown, for one of the defendants, charged that the lawyers of Toledo constituted a trust because they agreed upon the minimum and maximum of fees, and that the newspapers were a trust by establishing a scale of prices for advertising, Wacheimer replied that if evidence to this effect were given him he would indict every one of them and convict them.

Since the conviction of the managers the local price of ice, which had gone up 75 to 100 per cent, has been dropped from 30 to 40 per cent. After spending three nights in the county jail the sentence of two of the men, Beard and Lemmon, was reduced one-half because they had reduced the price of ice almost to last year's schedule. The others were expecting it on the same ground.

Illegal Trust Can't Collect.

The unusual contention that a trust has no standing in court and cannot collect for goods sold to a voluntary customer was sustained by Judge Ryan in the United States circuit court at St. Louis. This contention was made by Joseph E. Walsh, a plumber, who admitted that he had bought voluntarily $240 worth of goods from the Cahill-Swift Manufacturing company. Walsh alleged that this company was a trust and that he did not have to pay any more than he would have to pay a gambling debt. The court's decision was in his favor.

Postal Fraud Cases Fail.

Former State Senator Green and W. D. Doremus of Washington were acquitted by a Washington jury on the charge of bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of canceling machines in the postoffice department. This was Green's second trial, and another indictment is still pending.

Standard Pensions Rivals.

Lawrence Nicolai, formerly proprietor of the National Oil company, in Washington, testified before the referee in bankruptcy in that city that the Standard Oil company paid him an annual pension of $3,000 from 1895 to January, 1905, for refraining from selling oil and gasoline in the District of Columbia. He says he went into bankruptcy when the Standard stopped paying him the pension because it had gained such a stronghold and had so lowered the price of oil in Washington, making it up in Baltimore, that when he resumed business he failed completely. Nicolai said that two other companies doing business in Washington and claiming not to belong to the trust are controlled by the Standard and that a number of smaller concerns which have recently gone out of business are receiving a pension from the trust.

John D. Out of Trust.

John D. Rockefeller, when informed at Compiègne, France, where he now is, that prosecutions of Standard Oil officials were under way, said that he knew nothing of the doings of the oil trust, as he had been out of it for twelve years and had not been in its offices for seven years. He repeated his intention of sailing for New York on July 20 and said that he would receive the subpoena servers on his arrival. He said the only reason he dreaded to testify in a court was because of the unpleasant notoriety.

Details of the prosecutions to be brought were gone over at Washington, when it was decided to prosecute the trust under the discrimination clauses of the Elkins law and an old statute aimed at conspiracy to commit crime. The bulk of the work for the present will be in the courts of Buffalo and Cleveland.

Many Railroads Prosecuted.

By direction of Attorney General Moody criminal actions have been started against a large number of railroad companies to recover penalties for violation of the safety appliance law through failure to keep their equipment in proper condition. The defendants will include lines of the Atchafalpa, Atlantic Coast, Burlington, Milwaukee, Rock Island, Colorado and Northwestern, Colorado and Southern, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific, Seaboard, Norfolk and Western and others.

Millionaire Thaw a Murderer.

Harry K. Thaw, the young Pittsburgh millionaire who married Evelyn Nesbit, an artists' model and "Florodora" girl, shot and killed Stanford White, the noted architect, on the roof of Madison Square Garden, New York, June 25, during a theatrical performance. White was the man who designed Madison Square Garden and other famous structures. Thaw was arrested immediately and after examination by a magistrate was sent to the Tombs. A plea of insanity was expected, but Thaw resisted examination and was promptly indicted for murder.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict adjudging Thaw guilty of killing White, and the indictment for murder in the first degree followed immediately. The plea of defense will be "emotional insanity at the time of killing," and if the jury decides that the plea is justified Thaw will go forth a free man. The trial is expected to bring out the whole story of White's relations with Evelyn Nesbit before her marriage with Thaw. It is said that White drugged and ruined the girl when she was a mere child and had bragged of it after her marriage. Mrs. Thaw is supposed to have goaded her husband on to the defense of her honor and his own undoing.

MISCELLANEOUS

Harvard's Varsity Victorious.

It was a "red letter" day June 28 at New London, Conn., the town that is historic in the annals of college rowing. After enduring for six years a succession of Yale victories, Harvard came to the front, beating the Yale varsity eight in the four mile run down the Thames by two lengths. Yale won the minor events, the varsity four and the freshman eight.

Cornell Crews Victorious.

In the intercollegiate boat races on the Hudson June 23 the four oared and varsity crews of Cornell finished first. The freshman race was won by Syracuse, with Cornell a close second and Wisconsin third.

Miss Homans Tennis Champion.

Miss Helen Homans of New York won the title of national champion in women tennis singles by taking the final match from Mrs. Wallach in the tournament at Philadelphia. Miss May Sutton defended her title to the world's championship by taking the final round in the tennis tournament at Leicester, England.

Deaths.

Thomas E. Waggamann, the once wealthy Washington art connoisseur and real estate operator, whose failure for $5,000,000 imperiled the Catholic university, of which he was trustee, died in comparative poverty on a farm near Annapolis June 26. He had been a sufferer from facial cancer.

METHUEN.

ATTENDED SERVICE.

The members of Hope lodge, 34, and Minerva Rebekah lodge, 20, I. O. O. F., of Methuen attended divine worship at the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 6 o'clock by special invitation of the pastor, Rev. Robert R. Fisher. There were about 125 members of both lodges present. They met at the lodge room and marched in a body to the church, where they were assigned seats in the centre.

There was special music, which included a solo by William Kenison, a trio by Mr. and Mrs. Kenison and Miss Tetley, and an anthem by the choir. An interesting sermon was preached by the pastor, who took as his theme, "Friends," the text being from the 24th verse of the 15th chapter of proverbs. "There is a friend who sticketh closer than a brother," and the 14th verse of the 15th chapter of John, "Ye are many friends." The speaker told of the many friendships in the various walks of life and said Christ was a friend to all and urged all to come to Christ.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the lodges marched back to the hall and were dismissed. John S. Tapley acted as marshal for Hope lodge and John Q. Hill for Minerva lodge.

CONG'L CHURCH NOTES.

At the regular morning session Sunday the pastor preached on "Security." The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered at the close of the service.

The Young People's Society held a business meeting at 5 o'clock, preceded by a roll call and devotional service.

The usual 6 o'clock Sunday evening service was omitted Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock the prayer and conference meeting will be held in the chapel. Subject: "The Greater reality of our Christian profession and experience."

Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock an installing council will install the pastor of the French Evangelical church in Lowell.

A teachers' meeting will be held with the superintendent of the Sunday school Friday night.

Saturday at 2.30 Junior Circle Kings' Daughters will meet in the chapel. Subject: "Conquering Trust." Heb. 11: 1-40. Leader, Miss Mary E. Bailey.

Sunday next, Dr. F. E. Emrich, the secretary of the Mass. Home Missionary society will occupy the pulpit, the pastor being present. Annual collection for Home Missions follows.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Young People's society of the Congregational church elected the following officers for the ensuing term: President, Frank Binns; vice president, Rolf Norris; secretary, Ruth Norris; assistant secretary, Tyler Douglas; treasurer, Maude Irish; pianist, Elizabeth Jovett; social committee, Helen Frecheick, Blanche Silver, Leroy Irish, Merrill Gaunt; prayer meeting committee, Marion Doward, Dorothy Binns, Edith Goldsmith; look-out committee, Mary Bailey, Nellie Southworth, Reginald Remick, Bertha Jovett, Edward Douglas.

QUIET FOURTH.

The Fourth passed off very quietly in Methuen. No arrests were made for disturbances during the night before, or the day of the Fourth, and the fire department was not called out during the day. The department was ready for all emergencies, however, half of the department being on duty on the night before at the Central fire station, and the other half on duty all the day of the Fourth. There were no serious street bon fires on the night before. A large crowd gathered at the corner of Annis and Centre streets where the usual demonstrations are made in the Arlington district, and several attempts were made to light fires in the street, but with little success. The rain had much to do with keeping the occasion a quiet one. A number of quite elaborate fire works displays were in evidence about town last night.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Augustus Mercier, living at 6 River place, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide Wednesday forenoon at his home, but was prevented from accomplishing his purpose by the interference of his wife.

It is said that Mercier became somewhat despondent over an occurrence of the night before, and that after some words with his wife he obtained a razor and gave his neck a slash. His wife attempted to prevent him doing further harm, and succeeded, but had her own hand cut in the struggle. Chief of Police Jones was notified and he called Drs. Lawlor and Berwick to pray for the man and his wife. Several stitches were necessary to close the wounds in Mercier's neck, and Mrs. Mercier's hand. An officer was left in the house until a friend of the family arrived.

Mercier is about 30 years old and is an operative in the local mill.

Our boys' pant cloth remnants are not the ordinary cotton and shoddy mixtures. They are the finest worsted fancies and all wool men's wear serge. Farr's Remnant store, 28 Appleton street, Lawrence.

FORMAL OPENING IN NEVINS HOME.

The formal opening of the Nevins Home for the Aged and Incurable in Methuen will be held Monday next, July 9th, between the hours of 2 and 6 in the afternoon, when the building will be thrown open for the inspection of the public and simple dedicatory exercises conducted.

Rev. C. H. Oliphant who was a close friend of the late Mrs. Nevins, the donor of the building, will deliver a short address as will also one of the trustees of the will, Hon. J. S. Howe, the local trustee, will preside. These exercises will take place at 3 o'clock. The friends of the Home are cordially invited to be present without further notice.

CHICHESTER CHEMICAL COMPANY
Madison Block, Philadelphia, Pa.

Joseph Morin, a well known citizen and for nearly 20 years a driver in the Methuen fire department, passed away about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his residence on Lowell street, aged about 45 years. A complication of diseases, superinduced by a heart trouble was the cause of death. Mr. Morin had been confined to his home for about 4 weeks.

Joseph Morin was a native of Lowell and spent his early life in that city. He removed to Methuen some 22 years ago and entered the employ of the late Col. Henry C. Nevins. The latter was at that time furnishing a pair of horses for the Methuen fire department to be used on the 5. A. Straw steamer and Mr. Morin was made the driver and he has been a driver in the department ever since, though regularly employed on the street department, where the horses are kept at work. Since the water works system was introduced in Methuen and the new Central fire station was built, he had been assigned to duty as driver of the Paul Methuen hose wagon. He always took pride in his horses and kept them in the best possible condition, and was considered a careful and capable driver.

He had not been in rugged health for a long time and early in June was obliged to give up work and he had been confined to his home since that time. It was not generally realized that his condition was so serious and his death comes as a shock to his many friends. He was a member of Spicket Falls lodge, A. O. U. W. of Methuen.

He leaves a widow, one daughter, Della and one son, George, to mourn his death and they have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The funeral was held Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock at St. Anne's church in Lawrence.

Prior to the services many friends visited the home to take a last look at the features of the deceased. The body dressed in the firemen's uniform, lay in a gray broadcloth casket with silver extension handles, and the plate bore the usual inscription, the name and age of the deceased. There were many floral tributes including a beautiful piece from the widow, inscribed "Husband," a piece from the employees of the street department, one from the fire department inscribed "Our Driver," and one from the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

The funeral procession started from his late home on Lowell street at 8.45 o'clock and as it left the bell at the Central fire station nearby was tolled 48 times, representing his age, in his honor.

The local fire department and the employees of the street department attended the obsequies in a body. The hose wagon, drawn by the horses that Mr. Morin had been accustomed to drive, headed the procession, being led, the seat of the wagon being vacant, out of respect for the deceased. The wagon and horses were draped in mourning.

Following came the members of the fire department, employees of the street department, and a delegation from Spicket Falls lodge, A. O. U. W., and the friends and relatives in carriages. The cortege proceeded to St. Anne's church in Lawrence, where high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9.30 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Hamet. The choir rendered appropriate selections during the obsequies. Many friends were in attendance.

Interment took place in the Immaculate Conception cemetery. The pall bearers were three from the Methuen fire department and three from the workmen. Those from the fire department were James Skerrett, John Quinn and Thomas Dow; and from the workmen, Henry Spottiswood, Philip McMahon and James Moriarty.

NEW LAW FIRM OPENED OFFICE MONDAY.

Monday a new law firm opened offices in the Bay State building, rooms 501 and 502.

The co-partners are Attorneys M. A. Sullivan and Walter T. Rochefort. Michael A. Sullivan, the senior member of the firm, is a graduate of Phillips Andover and received his A. B. degree from Harvard in 1900, graduating amongst the leaders of his class. Through his exceptionally high rank in scholarship he was elected a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society and also completed the four years' course in three years.

Mr. Sullivan entered Harvard Law school in the fall of 1900 and received the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1903. Since 1902 he has been practicing law in Lawrence with great success.

He is a member of the Young Men's Catholic association, Knights of Columbus, Canoe club and Country club, and is a trustee of the public library.

Walter T. Rochefort, the junior member of the firm, is a graduate of the Lawrence High school in the class of 1900. He was orator of his class at the class day exercises and also won the Hood medal for highest rank in scholarship.

He entered Harvard college in the fall of 1900 and while there won several scholarships for good work in his studies and completed the four years' course in three years, graduating with honors.

In 1903, after taking his degree of A. B., he entered Harvard Law school from which school he has just received the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Mr. Rochefort passed the state bar examinations and was admitted to practice last February.

LYRA GLEE CLUB OBSERVED THE FOURTH.

The Fourth was fittingly celebrated by the Lyra Glee club. In the morning there was the annual rifle shoot on the range in the rear of the club house. Gustave O. Weigel, the champion of the last meet, met defeat at the hands of Bernard Otto.

In the afternoon the hall was decorated to the women and children. The ball room was beautifully decorated, the German national colors mingling with the red, white and blue of their adopted country. Old German games were played by both old and young, while a military band comprising 25 pieces rendered the national airs throughout the afternoon.

In the evening the older folks joined in the merrymaking. The orchestra was retained and dancing enjoyed until after midnight. The committee who arranged the day's events were August O. Weigel and Guss Saumsluf.

ZEBRAS TO DRAW STREET CARS.

Street cars in Zanzibar are to be drawn by domesticated zebras. Lord Howard de Walden, proprietor of a 40,000 acre zebra farm in Uganda, Africa, has received an order for forty of the animals for that purpose. The zebra is stated to have some advantages over the mule for the work in question; he endures the climate better and is stronger, and is immune from the attacks of the tsetse fly.

ROYALTIES LOSE VERY OFTEN THEIR JEWELS.

Members of royal families are as likely to lose valuable articles as other people, although they do not advertise as frequently in the newspapers.

Only a few months ago Queen Alexandra of England missed a highly prized memento in the shape of a diamond set miniature of the late Queen Victoria. Detectives agencies were set at work, but the locket was returned through the honesty of a railroad policeman, who found the missing article in the station where the Queen had recently alighted from a train. He received a reward of $5.

State functions in Europe rarely pass without several articles of jewelry being discovered in the rooms. At the coronation of Queen Victoria the late Prince Nicholas Esterhazy dropped precious stones valued at $10,000.

This sum also represents the value placed upon a string of pearls and diamonds lost by Lady Mount-Stephen upon the occasion of a festive event in Windsor Castle in 1864. She offered $250 reward for the return of the gems and soon recovered them.

They had not been dropped in the castle at all, but at the Great Western railway station, and were found by a railroad employee.

Some years ago Queen Natalie of Serbia, lost a valuable diamond ring that she had worn over 20 years. After a time the ring was recovered, and was given to the Little Sisters of the Poor, who were thereby enriched to the extent of $4000.

Some time ago King Edward lost a favorite dog, a wiry-coated fox terrier. Under royal orders a very extended search was made in which the telegraph was freely used. Finally the dog was captured at a railroad station, where it had frequently gone with the King. The finder received a reward of $250.

A ROUSING WELCOME TO CANDI-DATE DUNBAR.

Frank E. Dunbar of Lowell opened his congressional campaign in this city Monday night with a public reception in the parlors of the Franklin House. Fully 300 citizens of Lawrence and the suburbs availed themselves of the opportunity to meet the candidate and the affair was in every way an unqualified success.

Hon. Byron Ruell, Ex-Alderman Marshall and James C. Crombie introduced the guests to Mr. Dunbar and for two hours the big Lowell man was kept busy shaking hands and responding to cordial greetings coupled with assurances of support.

The reception began at 8 o'clock and lasted until after 10. Mr. Dunbar was accompanied by Col. Chadwick and James McDowell of Lowell was also present.

Among those present were the following: Hon. William S. Knox, Hon. Byron Ruell, Hon. Archie N. Frost, Franklin Butler, Agent Summersby of the Atlantic mills, James C. Crombie, Moses Marshall, Ex-Representative Spinlow, Joseph Donovan, J. Ruell, George F. Juenger, Walter Juenger, William H. Heinerich, Fred Morgan, W. H. Morgan, Ex-Councilman Mowatt, Fred G. Cheney, Walter Skilling, John H. Lawson, L. E. If you have not purchased your spring suit yet, you certainly ought to see our goods and prices. Our 30 inch panamas in all colors at 55 cents per yard, positively cannot be beaten. Farr's Remnant store, 38 Appleton street, Lawrence.

Better Cigar Values at Lower Prices
Than Ever Sold BeforeA Direct-dealing Plan That Cuts Out
Four Profits and Much Expense

Here's An Example of the way the National Cigar Stands save the smoker money

Here's a full, plump Perfecto, made by hand of selected seed-and-Havana leaf. It is just such a cigar as is sold in the average cigar store at 8 for 25 cents; a fragrant, mild, smooth combination that pleases more smokers than any other class of cigars known to the trade. This is its name and label—both will be famous:

Its price, (in Perfecto or Souquet size) is FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

This 8 for 25-cent quality at 5 cents is a good example of the result reached by this combination of 2,000 drug store cigar stands into a single, compact, powerful buying concern. It cuts out profits and expenses that have heretofore nearly doubled the cost of cigars. National Cigar Stands now give the same qualities often at half what they used to cost, always for less.

Stirling Castle: a fine clear Havana cigar of usual 10 cents quality.....6c

Lord Carver: highest type of popular Havana-filled, Sumatra-wrapped cigar, the best ever sold at.....3 for 25c

Adad: a first-class domestic cigar, presenting superior workmanship.....7 for 25c

Cuba-Roma: rich, choice Cuban-grown leaf, quality seldom seen at 8 for 25 cents.....5c

La Idalia: splendid clear Havana, of perfect workmanship.....3 for 25c

Flor de Madrid: very choice quality of clear Havana in fine sizes. 17 shapes, as a sample of which take the Perfecto Grande, a 8 for 60-cent cigar at.....2 for 25c

El Carvajal: superb imported Havana line, finest tobacco and workmanship to be had at any price. Nine sizes. Note especially the Paneta chica.....10c

W. A. ALLEN,
ANDOVER.ACCIDENTS WERE FEW DURING THE FOURTH.

Henry A. Lynch, the well known letter carrier was injured while engaged in setting off fire crackers at his home, 5 Acton street, during the afternoon of the Fourth. A large cannon cracker failed to explode, when first thrown, and after waiting a short time, he picked it up, intending to light it again when it exploded. A portion of the index finger of his right hand was blown off, the other fingers were more or less injured and the hand was badly burned. Drs. Magee and Bartley attended him but the injury is a serious one and it will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his work.

The Emergency hospital reported the following accidents:
Joseph Monfette, 16 years old, of 384 Common street had the palm of his left hand lacerated by a blank cartridge pistol.

Andrew Noonan, 20 years old, of Canal street, was burned about the face and eyes by the flashing up of powder.

Arthur Goyet, 11 years old, of 145 Valley street, had two fingers of his left hand lacerated by a fire cracker.

William Bennett, 17 years old, was burned above the eyes and on the left hand by a fire cracker.

Three other accidents of a slight nature were treated at the hospital. The General hospital reported no accidents treated.

COMPANY L GOING INTO REGI-MENTAL CAMP.

Company L, 8th regiment, Captain Edgar G. Holt commanding, leaves Saturday morning for South Framingham where the regimental camp will be located this year. The company has a full roster, numbering three officers and 60 men leaves by train at 7.30 o'clock for Boston, from which point a special electric has been chartered for the camping grounds on the line of the Boston & Worcester electric company.

The 8th regiment, Col. William F. Gloucester, commanding, goes into camp for its annual tour of duty of eight days. The local militia boys will be glad to receive friends at their camp and a good time is guaranteed all comers.

Quartermaster Gillespie is busily engaged in making preparation for the departure of the company.

BIGGEST COLORADO TROUT.

From the Denver Republican. Charles Younkman, Denver's veteran fisherman with a party of sixteen returned yesterday from Hartsel, Col., with a report of the largest trout caught so far this season.

Ed. Warren, also a well known angler, was the lucky man, and he landed an Eastern trout weighing five and a quarter pounds. This catch will have to stand for a week at least, or until Denver folks can get out again next Saturday to seek the finny tribe.

GOLF AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

James F. Lanigan, Jr., had the best gross and net score, 92-54, in the handicap stroke competition (18 holes qualifying round for match play) on the links of the Merrimack Valley Country club yesterday.

The score:
Gross H'd'c'p' Net
J. F. Lanigan, Jr. 92 8 84
M. W. Morris 99 14 85
G. H. Butters 87 12 85
A. E. Royle 103 16 87
Eugene Tolman 108 18 90
A. L. Cole 108 16 92

Charles Lanigan won the handicap match play against bogey, 2 up. The score: Start 2 up
R. T. Todd 1 down
T. L. Sullivan 4 down
L. S. Cox 6 down
M. W. Morris 6 down

Concert by Columbian orchestra and dance in the evening.

WELL KNOWN IN THIS CITY.

Deputy Immigration Commissioner Jeremiah J. Hurley of Boston, who detected nineteen stowaways on the White Star liner Romantic Wednesday, is well known in Lawrence having been formerly a resident of South Lawrence. He was a member of the championship Lawrence New England league baseball team of 1885.

Commissioner Hurley's good detective work has led to the discovery of an alleged underground system of secretly bringing diseased and out-cast Italians to this country.

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET IN HEAD.

The body of a man, believed, from the evidence of an insurance policy found in his pocket, to be William Stooke, aged about 50 years, of Lawrence, was found Thursday under a tree about 20 feet from Marston street in death, with a 32 calibre fire chamber revolver, one chamber empty, clutched in his right hand, and a bullet hole through the right temple.

The body was found at 12.10 o'clock this noon by John Hay, who was passing through the field. Mr. Hay saw the man on his face, and believed him asleep, but as he approached him he grew suspicious that something else might be the trouble and turned him over, finding that the man was dead. He at once notified the police station, and City Marshal Sheehan went to the scene, followed shortly after by Officer John P. O'Connor. Medical Examiner Dow was notified and viewed the remains. The body was cold and the man had been dead for some time. It is probable that he took his life yesterday. On his person were found quite a number of cartridges. There was in his pocket an insurance policy with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for $66, made out in the name of William Stooke, giving the age as 50 years. The man was evidently a Pole. The body was turned over to Undertaker Colby.

There is no doubt that it is a case of suicide.

ATTEMPTED BREAK.

An attempt was made to break into South Congregational church on Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock. Miss Osgood who lives with her aunt Mrs. Holt in the house next to the church, was awakened by the breaking of glass and upon looking out of the window which faces the side of the church observed two men, one of whom appeared to be watching while the other one operated. Awakening her aunt, Miss Osgood returned to the window and shouted to the men, at the same time calling for the police. The men immediately took to their heels.

An examination of the library into which the broken window opened showed that the men had been surprised before they could enter, and had they done so would have found little to reward them, unless they were of a literary turn, as the Sunday school collection, which was large, had been taken home on Sunday by the secretary pro tem, Miss Maude Kaler. The police were notified of the break and Officer Hart made an investigation, which revealed the fact that the attempted break was probably the work of local "bums" rather than that of experienced cracksmen.

ELECTRIC COLLIDES WITH AUTO
AT READING.

An automobile belonging to Jeremiah Kennedy of Boston was run into by a Boston and Northern street railway car in Reading Wednesday afternoon and badly damaged. Mr. Kennedy and his brother, James, were thrown out. Both were badly shaken up and the former sustained a broken leg. Two persons in the rear seat of the automobile escaped by jumping. The injured men were taken to Reading and after receiving medical treatment were removed to their home in Boston.

The street car was in charge of Motorman George Smith and Conductor David Wallace.

It is said that the automobile gave out while it was being turned about and that because of the close proximity of the car when the auto was disabled a collision was unavoidable.

The speed of the car was greatly reduced, however, and a much more serious accident was averted.

SAN FRANCISCO FUND WILL TO-TAL $14,000

Kidder, Peabody & Co. have acknowledged the final contribution of $2742.40, given by Lawrence citizens to the San Francisco Relief fund and forwarded by City Treasurer O'Connell. The total sent through City Treasurer O'Connell was $13,880.82. Other contributions forwarded direct to Relief headquarters swell the local fund to over $14,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor of Lawrence were visiting friends at this resort. Mr. Taylor is engaged in the meat and produce business in the up-river city.

ENTERTAINED AT SALISBURY BEACH.

The Ladies' Aid society of South Congregational church held a pleasant excursion to Salisbury beach on Monday afternoon as the guests of Mrs. Andrew Craig at her pleasant cottage by the shore.

The party arrived at the beach at 7.15 o'clock and seated at the tables on the lawn enjoyed a hearty lunch. Mrs. Craig being assisted in serving by Mrs. Frank C. Pingree, Mrs. Frank Carr, Mrs. Charles E. Barrett, Mrs. Eva Swift, Mrs. H. H. A. Platt and Mrs. Jane Hainsworth.

A dip in the briny, a stroll along the beach and a lounge upon the piazza of the cottage, completed the afternoon's excursion and the party left at 5 p. m. for home. The following members and their friends were in the party: Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. William Praddox, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Daw, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lovejoy, Mrs. Frank C. VICTORY IS OURS.

In their first muster with the tub "Governor Bradstreet," the North Andover Veteran firemen won first prize of $300 at the Lowell muster Wednesday afternoon. The locals played 202 feet, defeating the "Red Jackets" of Cambridge who have a record, the "Alabama Coon," the winner of the league muster and even of our neighbor Lawrence, fell 40 feet behind.

Following the play-out the winners shouldered brooms and headed by the local drum corps paraded the streets of Lowell amid the cheers from those who thronged the streets of that city. The return trip was made in a special electric which attracted much attention as it passed along its way to this town.

On reaching Sutton's corner a line was formed and with the lively strains of the drum corps, the victors paraded the town amid the brilliant display of red lights and the cheers of local citizens.

The North Andover Veteran Firemen's association are receiving many gratifying compliments for their victory.

It is with much credit that one speaks of the local organization and although they are known by many as the "Darktowns," it cannot be denied that "Governor Bradstreet" is a winner.

The Vets are rejoicing over their victory and they express much thanks for the great interest which the townspeople have taken.

A word must also be spoken of the local drum corps for their excellent music and the perfect satisfaction rendered.

NORTH ANDOVER VETS TOOK FIRST PRIZE AT LOWELL.

LOWELL, July 5.—Thousands of people congregated on the North common July 4, afternoon to witness the muster, which was one of the big events of the celebration.

The weather was not ideal. Early in the afternoon, a cloud came up and let loose a lot of rain, driving all hands into the tents and after a lot of uncertainty, the weather became clear, though a varying wind contributed to the doubt of the men who had been prophesying.

The Campello of Brockton were the first on the list, and they succeeded in covering 181 feet. This was considered quite a mark, but the Walthams coming next, beat it by over eight feet. The Red Jackets of Cambridge more than followed the 1905 with 199 feet 3-8 inches, a mark which stood until the Gov. Bradstreet of North Andover came up and won first place.

The Butler Vets of Lowell were in sixth position, and made their highest mark in the first trial, 192 feet 8 inches. So much pressure was behind the Butler machine that it broke, and, after the first trial, there wasn't a chance for improvements. For a long time however, it looked like second place for the locals.

The company feared by the Butlers was the Hancock from Brockton, and when the North Andovers went over the 200 mark, all of the firemen were surprised. The North Andover men were favored by a northerly breeze, though in fairness to them it must be said that they pumped effectively. The Hancocks had the wind against them and played to the tune of only 173 feet 1-2 inch.

The Butlers were jubilant over their capture of the $100 prize, and a happy time followed the last play-out. The records:

Gov. Bradstreet, North Andover, first, 202 ft. 3-4 in., $300; Red Jackets, Cambridge, second, 199 ft. 3-8 in., $200; Butler Vets, Lowell, third, 192 ft. 8 in., $100; Walthams fourth, 189 ft. 3-1-2 in., $50; Alabama Coons, Stoughton, fifth, 181 ft. 3-4 in., $25.

1 Campello, Brockton, But- ton, 181.00

2 Walthams, But- ton, 189.03 1-2

3 Red Jackets, Cam- bridge, But- ton, 199.09 3-8

4 Gloucester, But- ton, 177.05 3-4

5 Alabama Coons, Stoughton, Cowing, 181.03

6 Butlers, Lowell, Hun- man, 192.08

7 Protector, Brockton, Jef- fers, 179.00 1-2

8 Gov. Bradstreet, North An- dover, But- ton, 212.10 3-4

9 Nashuas, Hummelman, 150.00 3-4

10 Hancocks, Brockton, Cow- ing, 173.11 1-2

11 Protector, Amesbury, But- ton, 178.02 1-2

12 Lawrence, But- ton, 162.11 1-4

Mr. and Mrs. M. Carney sailed today on the White Star liner, Arabic for a two months' trip abroad.

George C. Dickey has returned to his home on Pleasant street after spending the holiday with relatives in Beverly.

The following list of articles will be drawn Monday evening at the club house: Briar pipe, lawn mower, doll, camera, stick pin, lady's dressing case and articles on a combination ticket.

Mrs. Hans Christensen and Hans Christensen, Jr., have gone to Co-chichewick Lodge, Bliddeford Pool, Me., where they will pass the summer months. Miss Charlotte Godfrey accompanied them.

Concrete walks are being constructed at the Centre from Jackson street to the Centre Grammar school and from T. A. Holt's store to the corner of Salem and Stevens streets. Smith and Bingham of Lawrence are doing the work.

Lawn Party.

On the spacious lawn which surrounds the beautiful Stevens Social club house on Pleasant street there was held Friday evening one of the prettiest and most successful lawn parties of the season.

Fine weather favored the occasion and over 600 people enjoyed the hospitalities of the popular members of the Stevens Social club.

The grounds were made brilliant by several large arc lights and scores of Japanese lanterns were attractive hanging all about the green.

The various booths erected presented a beautiful scene decorated with many bright colors. The grounds were surrounded with a six foot canvas and hundreds of red, white and blue flags were waving in the breeze.

The club house was open to the public and many patrons enjoyed the comforts afforded in this handsome and home-like edifice.

The party was the first annual one and it proved to be the greatest success, socially and otherwise.

The affair opened at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when a children's session was held until 5 o'clock. The following list of sports was carried out:

Girls' race, prize stick pin, winner Annie Sullivan.

Large boys' 50-yard dash, prize, catcher's mit, winner Fred Driver.

Small boys' 50-yard dash, prize fielder's mit, winner, Alec McKennon.

Shoe race, prize, baseball, winner, James Decker.

Peanut race, prize, stick pin, winner, Fred Driver.

Harry P. Cunningham and James J. Dillon had charge of the events.

In the evening a throng of patrons from Lawrence and vicinity arrived and everything was bustling until the midnight hour when a special electric light for Lawrence. All who attended spent a very enjoyable evening and they fully appreciate the excellent work of the club members.

A record of this affair will always remain on the book of the many social events of this town.

Dancing was enjoyed from 8 until 12 o'clock excellent music being furnished by Curran's orchestra.

The North Andover Drum Corps furnished an evening concert which must be highly complimented. Those in charge of this affair and its many features were Stevens Social club officers: President James L. Toohy, vice President John X. Healey; Secretary and Treasurer Martin J. Lawlor; general committee, Chairman John T. Finn, Secretary Thomas H. Broderick, Treasurer James J. Dillon; Ladies' General committee, Miss Julia Casey, chairman, Miss Annie Davis secretary; tickets, sub-committees: Thomas M. Broderick, Patrick J. Nealey; refreshment booth, Thomas M. Murphy, John G. Thompson, Fred Winning; cene ring, John X. Healey; wheel of fortune, William J. Toohy, Jr.; dolls rack, Patrick J. Lawlor; dancing, H. Cunningham, John F. Davis; hamper auction, James J. DeAdder, Thos. Lawlor; fortune teller, Madame Fanchon; domestic and fancy table, Mrs. Thomas H. Broderick, Mrs. James DeAdder, Mrs. Harry F. Cunningham, Misses Violet Driver, Edith Somerville and Bridget Roache; ice cream booth, Henry G. Schruender, Misses Celia W. Frances Driver, Etta Healey, Nellie Joyce, Annie Phelan, Nellie Reardon, Elizabeth McGrail; candy, Misses Catherine Davis and Mary Casey; grab, Misses Helen C. Toohy, Georgiana Sullivan, Sarah Wrigle.

The officers in charge of the grounds were: P. J. Healey, William J. Tohey, George Van Buskirk and William Whittaker.

President William J. Toohy and Chairman John F. Finn and their corps of assistants deserve the highest praise for the great success of their undertaking.

QUIET FOURTH.

The celebration of the Fourth in this town was the quietest for many years. All during the night before the streets were almost deserted and very little was heard. A large force of specials were on duty and Chief of Police Mizen kept strict order. The usual riotous acts of previous years were abandoned and the night was termed very peaceful. The only damage reported to the police was an act of someone painting the office of Judge Newton P. Frye with an excess of green paint.

GLEN FOREST OPENS.

After two weeks of straight musical comedy at Glen Forest next week beginning Monday July 9 will see the first vaudeville of the season in full swing there.

For this week of vaudeville the management has secured that well known organization, The Empire Specialty Co., including Holcomb, Curtis & Co. in an original singing act, Harper Desmond and Hilliard, real coon entertainers, fresh from London music halls, Mlle. Esmeralda the famous Frenchwoman, known the world over as "Queen of the Xylophone," Charles and Jac Abena comedy cyclists, West and Williams the talking comedians and Chas. De Cane and his wonderful dog, "Cora," a pretty little fox terrier who can do anything an intelligent child can do. She adds and subtracts numbers, tells the age of any one in the audience in fact can do anything but speak and she can do that after a fashion.

The children especially, as well as the older folk will be delighted with this act, so don't forget and bring them.

Ladies and children free as usual on Monday afternoon.

HIS JUSTIFICATION.

Benedict Arnold had just betrayed West Point.

"I was trying," he explained, "to prevent the premature celebration of the Fourth of July."

Here with certain lovers of quiet were fain to overlook the peccadillo.

MODERN LOVE MAKING.

From the London Graphic.

"The manoeuvring mamma" is practically extinct. The modern daughter has an almost free hand in managing her love transactions. The mere love marriage, which was so disturbing a thought to the mother of even twenty years ago, is seldom heard of in Mayfair in these altered circumstances.

The new love making is a subject which cannot be dealt with except with the utmost discretion, for it might grieve some to have it hinted that the modern daughter is a better woman of business in such a situation than was even the "manoeuvring mamma."

CARP TAKEN WITH PITCHFORK.

Grafton correspondence Fairmount Times.

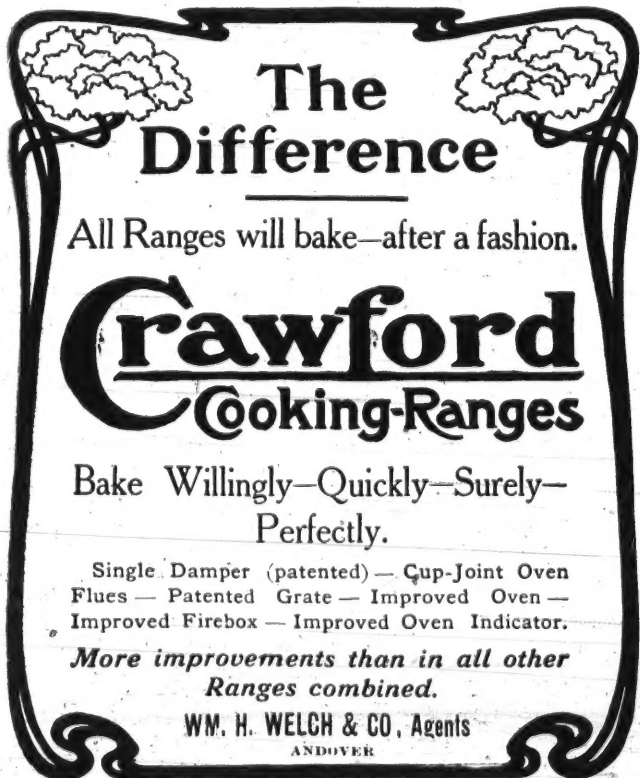

A number of Graftonians went fishing this morning, and the luck they had was phenomenal. The river, which was quite high last evening, had fallen during the night and left a small lake under the west end of the county bridge. Where a hole had been dug out in hauling away sand, and about a hundred large carp had dropped into this eddy and were left there, cut off from the river, and men and boys went into the water with clubs and pitchforks and captured nearly as hundred, some of the fish being five feet in length and weighing over twenty-five pounds.

ON THE WATCH.

"I see Grace's new young man is not much of a smoker," remarked Pa Higgins.

"How kin you tell?" inquired Ma Higgins.

"I find Grace's glasses on the planter every morning, but I never find any cigars," Louisville Courier Journal.
